

Energy Systems, Fall 2011

There is no final; rather there is a final project which is to reproduce the “energy flows” chart (you don’t have to draw it) for the year 2030. This project will be explained in more detail later in the course and involves some supporting text.

There will be two tests, approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ and $\frac{3}{4}$ through the semester.

There will be weekly homeworks.
