

Homework 5:

Part 1:

Either create a new web page or use the one you created the form in. Add a paragraph, a h1 head tag, and a h2 head tag.

1. Create a style with text color and the font family for paragraphs. Add the style to the web page by including the style in the header section.
2. Create a style for h1 head tags. Include that style inline. Make sure you set the font size, the text alignment, and the font weight.
3. Create a style in a separate css page for the h2 tag. Attach it to the web page. Change the font style and the text indent. Add a text decoration (okay, if you want, you can add blink.)

Part 2:

Using your preexisting html file, the website you're working on, or a new web page, add the following style elements in an attached stylesheet.

1. Include a border-style, border-width, and border-color.
2. Include a padding
3. Include a margin
4. Include padding that is different on one side from the padding on the other sides.
5. Set the width of an element (to something that isn't too wide)
6. Use margin: auto to center an element you're styling.
7. Add a background color to an element
8. Add a background image to a different element than one you added the background color to.
9. Add a background image that repeats horizontally only. Position it using pixels
10. Add a background image to some other element. Set it so that it does not repeat at all. Position it using %.
11. Create a style for the body element.
